

I am against any increase to the number of stations that an organization can own. We are far too limited in the viewpoints expressed by multi-station companies. Local events and news take a back seat (or none at all) to those items that the large companies think are in their (not the public's) best interest. I also feel that the larger the company, the less they pay attention to the small guy.

Please do not increase the ownership interest beyond that which currently exists.

Thank you.
